Dear Physiatrists:

Our web site is an evolving and interactive component of our organization. For this purpose we are putting out a call for authors to submit pertinent educational and informational articles which can be posted online. Articles will be posted in our quarterly newsletter and/or web site.

Guidelines for submission;

- Articles should be about relevant topics in health care, practice issues, legislative, medicine, human interest, research or other issues related to our specialty.
- Articles should be educational and informative.
- If written for patients and the public it should be written in terms and language that are easy to understand.
- 500-1000 words recommended but no limit is set.
- Articles should be original with proper citation for information, pictures, charts etc... obtained from other sources.
- Pictures: should be in .jpg or .gif format. All files must have minimum resolution of 72 dpi. (max. 300) with a image size no larger than: 1500 px x 900 px
- Documents should be submitted in electronic format (.docx).
- All articles will be approved by Web site committee editors.
- FSPMR will retain full editorial rights to any submissions.
